

We're delighted to have Hayley and Archie join the team

Hayley Mullens started her career as part of an independent investment firm, before joining the Small Cap equity sales and research team at Panmure Gordon. Prior to joining Radnor, Hayley was a Director of Corporate Broking at WH Ireland where she advised listed corporate clients across all sectors on aspects relating to their respective listings.

Hayley was also previously an Investment Manager, managing assets for an AIM listed integrated wealth planning and investment management company.

In her position as Client Director, Hayley will be using her corporate broking experience to support and advise our Small/Mid-cap clients on their engagement with the market.

Archie Denny graduated from Bristol University before attending Imperial College Business School to complete an MSc in Management, specialising in Finance. At Imperial College, he worked as an Equity Research Analyst for the ICBS Student Investment Fund, conducting fundamental analysis and researching equities for the Investment Committee.

Previously, Archie worked at Architas, the multi-manager investment firm and also spent two years working as an account manager in an advertising agency building relationships with a suite of FTSE 250 clients.

Archie joins us as an Associate on the Capital Markets team. He will be engaging with institutional and private wealth investors on behalf of our clients.
